

AUGUST UPDATE

Dear Members and Friends of Union Church,

It's hard to believe that we are in our last full month of summer! It has been packed full of events, and this August is no exception. Hopefully you have been able to find a balance between pleasurable activities with family and friends and time to relax and re-energize yourselves. If not, this beautiful season is not over. Be good to yourselves.

Several people have asked if I keep regular office hours at the North Dam Mill. I do not. I find it easier to work from the computer in my home office. However, I am ten minutes away and happy to meet with you. Simply give me a call (office: (207) 602-6237). If I am not there the voice message transfers to my home computer. Or, you can call my cell (207) 205-4951.

Thank you to all of you who have done the quiet "behind the scenes" work that often goes unnoticed except when it isn't done: Those who have watered the grass and plants in the remembrance garden, the clean-up crew at the speakers' series, those who pick up around the church after each service and those who make sure that we have the bulletins each month. We are all very grateful to you.

Thank you also to Bob Sherman and the trustees for their work on the communion cup holders and the new card holders. A lot of time and tedious work has gone into this project.

Several of you have let me know that you are preparing something for our August Life Lessons Sunday, "Lessons from our Pets". We are so fortunate to have so many gifted people in our congregation. Please do not limit your sharing to this once-a-month event. Consider, for example contributing a poem, picture or essay to the monthly update, or to a Sunday service or bulletin insert.

I continue to appreciate your feedback about our Sunday services. Being a diverse worshipping community is both a rich blessing and a challenge. My hope is that you leave church each Sunday having been nourished in some way. Your guidance will help me do my part to make this happen.

May you all be blessed by the beauty of the season. May you experience the Divine Presence in and around you. May you know that you are precious and loved.

Nancy

The sessions are free, and you can drop in at any time during the scheduled hours. Why would you do this? It calms the spirit and soothes the soul. If you need relief from stress, there is great support for you here. The first session is Tuesday, August 9 --and, please, if you are planning to come, send me a quick email <jforssen@gmail.com>. (John Forssen)

Bibles: You may have noticed that the bibles in the pews are very faded and worn. They have served the members of Union Church well, but displayed as they are now is comparable to flying a frayed and tattered American flag. They need to be replaced; but, with what? We are a very diverse congregation and there are many choices available. Though the decision about which bibles to purchase will be made at a later date by the settled pastor in consultation with the deacons, we want your input as well. So as to capture the most opinions, when the congregation is the largest, after the service on September 11, Rev. Jonathan Wright-Gray will make a presentation about the various bible options based on his years in the ministry and his knowledge of different translations. Printed copies of his remarks will be available a week in advance for people who are unable to receive them by email. On the Sunday following Jonathan's presentation, the members of the congregation will have an opportunity to offer their preferences. This information will be filed and given to the settled pastor to help with his/her decision.

The Union Church Blessing of the Animals will take place at 4:00 PM on Sunday, August 14, 2016 on the McPheeters' lawn at the corner of Lester B. Orcutt Blvd and Mile Stretch Road in Biddeford Pool, Maine.
